

Table of Contents

Contributors

How Will We Celebrate Passover This Year?

Jessica Fisher, Dasee Berkowitz

קִדְּשׁ: Elevate Their Voices

Avner Goren

יְחִץ: Embracing Brokenness

Noam Zion, Mishael Zion

מִגִּיד: Telling Our Story

Let All Who Are Hungry Come and Eat

Leah Solomon, Yehuda Kurtzer

מָה נִשְׁתַּנָּה: Old and New Questions

Noam Zion, Mishael Zion

Adapting the Story in Every Generation

Mishael Zion, Vlada Nidak, Tamar Elad-Appelbaum,
Ziva (Tezezew) Mekonen Degu

The Four Children

Noam Zion, Eleanor Harrison Bregman, Donniel Hartman,
Sara Labaton, Joshua Ladon and Masua Sagiv

בִּרְךָ: Pour Out Your Wrath and Your Love

Avraham Shlonsky, Rachel Goldberg, Noam Zion and David Dishon

הִלֵּל: Praising God When Our People Are Captives

Jacky Levy, Oded Mazor

נִרְצָה: Next Year in Jerusalem: Messages of Hope

David Grossman, Iris Eliya Cohen

Contributors

Dasee Berkowitz is an executive facilitator, educator, and coach. She is also the author of Becoming a Soulful Parent: A Path to the Wisdom Within.

David Dishon is a Shalom Hartman Institute faculty member and co-founder of Hartman's Charles E. Smith High School. He is the co-author of A Different Night: The Family Participation Haggadah.

Jessica Fisher is Director of Rabbinic Enrichment at the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America.

Tamar Elad-Appelbaum is the rabbi and founder of Kehillat Zion, Jerusalem and co-founder of the Shalom Hartman Institute and Midrasha Israeli Rabbinical Seminary and Rabbanut Yisraelit Network.

Iris Eliya Cohen is a fiction writer and poet. Her first novel, Maktub, won the Israeli Minister of Culture Award and the Ramat Gan Literature Award. Her second novel, Dushinka, Neshama, was nominated for the Sapir Prize. She published "For Weeks I've Been Bleeding Poems" on November 26, 2023. It will appear in her forthcoming book, And Sometimes a Woman (in Hebrew).

Rachel Goldberg is the mother of Hersh Goldberg-Polin, who was wounded and then kidnapped from the Nature Music Festival at Kibbutz Reim by Hamas.

Avner Goren, a child of Kibbutz Nir Oz founders, and his wife, Maya, were murdered in their home when Nir Oz was attacked on October 7.

David Grossman is an Israeli novelist. "Tikvah/Hope: The Enclave of Freedom in the Human Soul" is an excerpt from a speech he delivered at the Frankfurt International Book Fair in 2020 during the height of the pandemic.

Eleanor Harrison Bregman Once an ordained Christian minister, Eleanor Harrison Bregman served as the Protestant chaplain at the Jewish Home and Hospital in the Bronx and as the Director of Multifaith Initiatives at Romemu, a synagogue in New York City. Since 2020, Eleanor has been exploring her family's legacy of slavery on land in South Carolina, which has led to several projects related to land, race, money, and reparative genealogy. She recently converted to Judaism.

Donniel Hartman is President of the Shalom Hartman Institute, author of Who Are The Jews—And Who Can We Become?, and host of For Heaven's Sake, one of the most popular Jewish podcasts in North America.

Michel Kichka is an Israeli cartoonist and illustrator. He illustrated Israeli Haggadah and A Night to Remember: The Haggadah of Contemporary Voices.

Yehuda Kurtzer is President of the Shalom Hartman Institute and co-editor of The New Jewish Canon.

Sara Labaton is Director of Teaching and Learning at the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America.

Joshua Ladon is Director of Education at the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America. He is one of the co-hosts of the Shalom Hartman Institute podcast, Perfect Jewish Parents.

Jacky Levy is a popular Jerusalem performer and author of children's stories. His relatives in Kibbutz Nir Oz, Sahar and Erez Calderon, ages 16 and 12, were kidnapped by Hamas and taken to Gaza on October 7, then redeemed in a hostage exchange after 52 days in captivity. Their father, Ofer, who was injured in the attack, remains captive.

Oded Mazor is the rabbi of Kol Haneshama, a reform synagogue in Jerusalem.

Ziva (Tezewew) Mekonen Degu served as Executive Director of the Association of Ethiopian Jews between 2011-2019. She is a co-founder of "Mothers on Guard," an anti-racism activist group calling for justice for young Ethiopian Israelis suffering from police brutality. Born in Ethiopia, Ziva lives in Jerusalem with her family.

Vlada Nedak is Executive Director of the all-Ukrainian Jewish women's organization, Project Keshet.

Masua Sagiv is Scholar in Residence of the Shalom Hartman Institute and the Koret Visiting Assistant Professor at the Helen Diller Institute at the University of California, Berkeley. She is one of the co-hosts of the Shalom Hartman Institute podcast, Perfect Jewish Parents.

Avraham Shlonsky was an Israeli poet who made aliyah from Ukraine in 1922.

Leah Solomon is the Chief Education Officer at Encounter.

Mishael Zion is founder of Kehillat Klausner in Jerusalem and founding director of the Mandel Leadership Institute's Program for Leadership in Jewish Culture. He is formerly a fellow of the Kogod Research Center at the Shalom Hartman Institute in Jerusalem. He is the co-author of Israeli Haggadah and A Night to Remember: The Haggadah of Contemporary Voices.

Noam Zion is a Senior Fellow Emeritus at of the Kogod Research Center at the Shalom Hartman Institute. He is the co-author of A Different Night: The Family Participation Haggadah, Israeli Haggadah, and A Night to Remember: The Haggadah of Contemporary Voices.