In excess, both pride and shame can be destructive forces, yet to cultivate a healthy ego, one needs a moderate dosing of each. In this episode of Texting, Elana Stein Hain and Christine Hayes unpack Tractate Yoma 22b-23a, which highlights the tension between the need to stand up for one's self and the imperative to be magnanimous and forgiving. What emerges is the importance of interpersonal relationships, as we strive to treat others as we want to be treated.

This source sheet is part of the April 8, 2024 episode of the podcast TEXTING with Elana Stein Hain which delves deeply into Jewish texts to guide and inspire us as we grapple with the concerns and meaning of this moment. Join Elana as she addresses the issues of our day through the lens of classical Jewish texts in conversation with Hartman scholars.

Dr. Elana Stein Hain is the Rosh Beit Midrash and a senior research fellow at the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America, where she serves as lead faculty, engages in research and curriculum development and consults on the content of lay and professional leadership programs. A widely well-regarded teacher and scholar, Elana is passionate about bringing rabbinic thought into conversation with contemporary life. To this end, she hosts TEXTing a bi-weekly podcast that considers issues relevant to Jewish life through the lens of classical and modern Torah texts; she also teaches Talmud from the Balcony, an occasional learning seminar exposing the big ideas, questions, and issues motivating rabbinic discussions. She is the author of Circumventing the Law: Rabbinic Perspectives on Legal Loopholes and Integrity (Penn Press, 2024) which uses loopholes as a lens for understanding rabbinic views on law and ethics. Elana also contributes to For Heaven's Sake, a bi-weekly podcast with Donniel Hartman and Yossi Klein Halevi, exploring contemporary issues related to Israel and the Jewish world. She earned her doctorate in Religion at Columbia University and is an alumna of the Yeshiva University Graduate Program in Advanced Talmudic Studies (GPATS) as well as the Consortium in Jewish Studies and Legal Theory Graduate Fellowship at Cardozo School of Law. She also served for eight years as a clergy member on the Upper West Side of Manhattan, at both Lincoln Square Synagogue and the Jewish Center, has taught at the Wagner School at NYU, and sits on the board of Sefaria: A Living Library of Jewish Texts.

Dr. Christine Hayes is a Senior Fellow of the Kogod Research Center at the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America. She is the Sterling Professor Emeritus of Religious Studies at Yale University, specializing in talmudic-midrashic studies. She is currently working on a book of humor and play as tools of skepticism in talmudic literature.

The Shalom Hartman Institute is a leading center of Jewish thought and education, serving Israel and North America. Our mission is to strengthen Jewish peoplehood, identity, and pluralism; to enhance the Jewish and democratic character of Israel; and to ensure that Judaism is a compelling force for good in the 21st century.

I. Healthy Ego: Humility and Pride

1. Babylonian Talmud Yoma 22b – 23a

אָמַר רַב יְהוּדָה אָמַר שְׁמוּאֵל: מִפְּנֵי מָה לֹא נִמְשְׁכָה מַלְכוּת בֵּית שָׁאוּל — מִפְּנֵי שֶׁלֹּא הָיָה בּוֹ שׁוּם דּוֹפִי, דְּאָמַר רַבִּי יוֹחָנָן מִשּׁוּם רַבִּי שִׁמְעוֹן בֶּן יְהוֹצָדָק: אֵין מַעֲמִידִין פַּרְנָס עַל הַצִּיבּוּר אֶלָּא אִם כֵּן קוּפָּה שֶׁל שְׁרָצִים תְּלוּיָה לוֹ מֵאֲחוֹרָיו. שֶׁאִם תָּזוּחַ דַּעְתּוֹ עָלָיו אוֹמְרִין לוֹ: חֲזוֹר לַאֲחוֹרֶידָ

Rav Yehuda said that Shmuel said: Why did the kingship of the house of Saul not continue on to succeeding generations? It is because there was no flaw in his ancestry; he was of impeccable lineage. As Rabbi Yoḥanan said in the name of Rabbi Shimon ben Yehotzadak: One appoints a leader over the community only if he has a box full of creeping animals hanging behind him, i.e., he has something inappropriate in his ancestry that preceded him. Why is that? It is so that if he exhibits a haughty attitude toward the community, one can say to him: Turn and look behind you and be reminded of your humble roots. This is why David's kingdom lasted while Saul's did not, as David descended from a family with problematic ancestry, namely Tamar (see Genesis, chapter 38) and Ruth the Moabite (see Ruth 4:18–22).

אָמַר רַב יְהוּדָה אָמַר רַב: מִפְּגֵי מָה גָעֲנַשׁ שָׁאוּל — מִפְּגֵי שֶׁמָּחַל עַל פְבוֹדוֹ, שֶׁגָּאָמַר: ״וּבְגַי בְלַיַּעַל אָמְרוּ מַה יוֹשִׁיעֵנוּ זֶה וַיִּבְזוּהוּ וְלֹא הֵבִיאוּ לוֹ מִנְחָה וַיְהִי פְּמַחֲרִישׁ״, וּכְתִיב: ״וַיַּעַל נָחָשׁ הָעַמּוֹנִי וַיָּחַן עַל יָבֵשׁ גִּלְעָד וְגוֹי״.

Rav Yehuda said that Rav said: Why was Saul punished in that he was ultimately led to commit the sins described above? Because at the very outset of his reign he inappropriately forwent his royal honor, as it is stated with regard to Saul's inauguration: "And some base fellows said: How can this man save us? So they disparaged him and brought him no present. But he made himself as if he did not hear" (I Samuel 10:27). And it is stated immediately afterward: "And Nahash the Ammonite marched up and encamped against Jabesh-gilead" (I Samuel 11:1). The implication is that if Saul had forcefully assumed his throne, Nahash would not have dared to attack the people of Jabesh-gilead. In this way, his humility led to the crisis.

2. 1 Samuel 10:26-27

ּוְגַּם־שָׁאוּל הָלַדְּ לְבֵיתָוֹ גִּבְעֲתָה וַיֵּלְכָוּ עִמּׁוֹ הַחֵּיָל אֲשֶׁר־נָגָע אֱלהֻים בְּלָבָּם: וּבְנֵי בְלַיַּעַל אָמְרוּ מַה־יּשִׁעֵׂנוּ זֶה וַיִּבְזֶהוּ וְלֹא־הַבִּיאוּ לָוֹ מִנְחָה וַיִהָי כְּמַחַרֵישׁ: Saul also went home to Gibeah, accompanied by upstanding men whose hearts God had touched. But some scoundrels said, "How can this fellow save us?" So they scorned him and brought him no gift. But he pretended not to mind.

II. Revenge or Rolling Over?

וּאָמַר רַבִּי יוֹחָנָן מִשׁוּם רַבִּי שָׁמִעוֹן בֵּן יָהוֹצָדָק : כָּל תַּלִמִיד חָכָם

And Rabbi Yohanan said in the name of Rabbi Shimon ben Yehotzadak: Any Torah scholar...

שָׁאֵינוֹ נוֹקֵם וְנוֹטֵר כְּנָחָשׁ — אֵינוֹ תַּלְמִיד חָכָם. וְהָכְתִיב: ״לּא תִקּוֹם וְלֹא תִטּוֹר״י הָהוּא, בְּמָמוֹן הוּא דִּכְתִיב, דְּתַנְיָא: אֵיזוֹ הִיא נְקִימָה וְאֵיזוֹ הִיא נְטִירָהי נְקִימָה — אָמַר לוֹ: הַשְׁאִילֵנִי מַגָּלְדָּ, אָמַר לוֹ: לָאו. לְמָחָר אָמַר לוֹ הוּא: הַשְׁאִילֵנִי קַרְדּוּמְדָ, אָמַר לוֹ: אֵינִי מַשְׁאִילְדָ, כְּדֶרֶדְ שֶׁכּּא הִשְׁאַלְתַּנִי — זוֹ הִיא נְקִימָה.

...who does not avenge himself and bear a grudge like a snake when insulted is not considered a Torah scholar at all, as it is important to uphold the honor of Torah and its students by reacting harshly to insults. The Gemara asks: But isn't it written explicitly in the Torah: "You shall not take vengeance nor bear any grudge against the children of your people" (Leviticus 19:18)? The Gemara responds: That prohibition is written with regard to monetary matters and not personal insults, as it was taught in a baraita: What is revenge and what is bearing a grudge? Revenge is illustrated by the following example: One said to his fellow: Lend me your sickle, and he said: No. The next day he, the one who had refused to lend the sickle, said to the other person: Lend me your ax. If he said to him: I will not lend to you, just as you did not lend to me, that is revenge.

ַוְאֵיזֹוֹ הִיא נְטִירָה! אָמַר לוֹ : הַשְׁאִילֵנִי קַרְדּוּמְדָ, אָמַר לוֹ : לא. לְמָחָר אָמַר לוֹ : הַשְׁאִילֵנִי חֲלוּקְדָּ! אָמַר לוֹ : הֵילָדָ, אֵינִי פְּמוֹתְדָּ שֶׁלּא הִשְׁאַלְתַּנִי. זוֹ הִיא נְטִירָה.

And what is bearing a grudge? If one said to his fellow: Lend me your ax, and he said: No, and the next day he, the one who had refused to lend the ax, said to the other man: Lend me your robe; if the first one said to him: Here it is, as I am not like you, who would not lend to me, that is bearing a grudge. Although he does not respond to his friend's inconsiderate behavior in kind, he still makes it known to his friend that he resents his inconsiderate behavior. This baraita shows that the prohibition relates only to monetary matters, such as borrowing and lending.

וְצַעֲרָא דְגוּפָא לָאי וְהָא תַּנְיָא : הַגָּעֱלָבִין וְאֵינָן עוֹלְבִין, שׁוֹמְעִין חֶרְפָּתָן וְאֵינָן מְשִׁיבִין, עוֹשִׂין מַאַהַבָה וּשְׂמֵחִין בְּיִסּוּרִין, עֲלֵיהֶן הַכָּתוּב אוֹמֵר : ׳׳וְאוֹהֲבָיו כְּצֵאת הַשֶּׁמֶשׁ בִּגְבוּרָתוֹ׳׳י

The Gemara asks: But does the prohibition against vengeance really not relate also to matters of personal anguish suffered by someone? Wasn't it taught in a baraita: Those who are insulted but do not insult others, who hear themselves being shamed but do not respond, who act out of love for God, and who remain happy in their suffering, about them the verse states: "They that love Him be as the sun when it goes forth in its might" (Judges 5:31). This baraita shows that one should forgive personal insults as well as wrongs in monetary matters.

ּלְעוֹלָם דְּנָקֵיט לֵיה בְּלִיבֵּיה.

The Gemara responds that the prohibition against taking vengeance and bearing a grudge indeed applies to cases of personal anguish; however, actually, the scholar may keep resentment in his heart, though he should not act on it or remind the other person of his insulting behavior.

4. Babylonian Talmud Berachot 7b

ַוְאָמַר רַבִּי יוֹחָנָן מִשׁוּם רַבִּי שִׁמְעוֹן בֶּן יוֹחַי: מִנַּיִן שֶׁאֵין מְרַצִּין לוֹ לָאָדָם בִּשְׁעַת כַּעֲסוֹ — שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר: ייפְּנַי יֵלֵכוּ וַהְנִחוֹתִי לָדְיי.

And Rabbi Yoḥanan said in the name of Rabbi Shimon ben Yoḥai: From where is it derived that one must not placate a person while the person in the throes of his anger? As it is stated: "My face will go, and I will give you rest" (Exodus 33:14).

III. The Other Side Must Do Something!

ָןָהָאָמַר רָבָא: כָּל הַמַּעֲבִיר עַל מִדּוֹתָיו — מַעֲבִירִין לוֹ עַל כָּל פְּשָׁעָיו! דִּמְפַיְיסוּ לֵיהּ וּמִפַּיַיס.

The Gemara asks: But didn't Rava say: With regard to whoever forgoes his reckonings with others for injustices done to him, the heavenly court in turn forgoes punishment for all his sins? The Gemara answers: Indeed, even a scholar who is insulted must forgive insults, but that is only in cases where his antagonist has sought to appease him, in which case he should allow himself to be appeased toward him. However, if no apology has been offered, the scholar should not forgive him, in order to uphold the honor of the Torah.

6. Eicha (Lamentations) Rabba 1

Rabbi Shmuel bar Nahman said: When the Temple was destroyed, Abraham came before the Holy One blessed be He weeping, pulling out his beard, tearing out the hair of his head, striking his face, rending his garments, ashes on his head, and he was walking in the Temple and lamenting and screaming. He said before the Holy One blessed be He: 'Why am I different from all nations and tongues that I have come to this state of shame and humiliation?' When the ministering angels saw him, they too composed lamentations standing in rows and saying: "[Behold, their angels cry out outside....] The highways are desolate, wayfarers have ceased; [he breached the covenant, rejected cities, regarded no man]" (Isaiah 33:7–8). What is "the highways are desolate"? The ministering angels said before the Holy One blessed be He: 'The highways to Jerusalem that You prepared so that travelers would never cease from them, how have they become desolation?' "Wayfarers have ceased" – the ministering angels said before the Holy One blessed be He: 'The ways upon which Israel would travel on the festivals, how have they become idle?' "Breached the covenant" – the ministering angels said before the Holy One blessed be He: 'Master of the universe, the covenant of their patriarch Abraham has been breached, by means of whom the world was settled, and by means of whom You were recognized in the world as God on High, Maker of the heavens and the earth.' "Rejected cities" - the ministering angels said before the Holy One blessed be He: 'Have You rejected Jerusalem and Zion after You chose them?' That is what is written: "Did You reject Judah, did Your soul loathe Zion...?" (Jeremiah 14:19). "Regarded no man [enosh]" – the ministering angels said before the Holy One blessed be He: 'You did not consider Israel even like the generation of Enosh, who were the originators of idol worshippers.' At that moment, the Holy One blessed be He attended to the ministering angels. He said to them: 'Why are you composing lamentations like this, standing in rows?' They said to Him: 'Master of the universe, why did You not pay attention to Abraham, Your beloved, who came to Your House and lamented and wept?' He said to them: 'From the day that My beloved passed away from before Me to his eternal home, he did not come to My House, and now: "What has My beloved to do in My House?"' (Jeremiah 11:15).
